

The American Legion Flanders Field Post BE02

COMMANDER'S MESSAGE

I must first apologize to the membership for not providing a newsletter for some time.

Working as the Commander for Post BE02 is like a full time job. Each day, I coordinate and attend a number of events, rectify situations, and take care of the daily business of the Post. But I love doing what I do. It is a passion because I believe in what we do and what the American Legion stands for.

I would like to thank to our members who have stepped up and helped us during the past year. Your contribution was paramount to our success. We understand that we are in Europe, you have families and you work.

Membership: Last summer's PCSs and PPDs were a devastating blow to our membership. Almost half out the Post's membership moved back to the USA. However, this does not prevent our Legionaries in the USA from being a part of our Post. Your dues help us maintain our Americanism and Child & Youth programs. And your membership adds to voice of over two million Legionaries in Washington

Communication: As many of you are aware, Post BE02 uses Facebook as a communication tool. In our closed site, we provide information regarding upcoming events and activities. We also use Facebook messenger to communicate in a one-to-one basis. While Facebook is a social media site, it has proven to be an effective communication tool. If you have a Facebook account and want to be added to this Post BE02 closed site, contact Commander Joseph Schram or 1st Vice Commander Paul Haney.

Another communication tool is the use of e-mails. We have a least one e-mail account. This newsletter and any updates will be sent out by e-mail. Hopefully, I can keep the e-mails down to a minimum. As for the monthly newsletter, I have been amiss in getting this out on time. If you would like to help with the monthly newsletter please let me know.

National Commander to Visit Belgium , 06-08 June

Charles E. Schmidt was elected national commander of American Legion on Sept. 1, 2016, in Cincinnati during the 98th national convention.

Schmidt enlisted in the U.S. Air Force in 1965 and served on active duty until his retirement in 1993. During that time he advanced from an administrative clerk to a distinguished graduate of the Air Force Officer Training School, earning a commission and assignments to Executive Support Officer positions at major headquarters. His Air Force assignments took him to Oregon, California, Montana, Nebraska, Colorado, England, Germany, Philippines and Vietnam.

Schmidt served as the Department of Oregon commander from 2004-2005, and he's served at every level of the Legion, including National Executive Committeeman from 2005-2016.

What It Means to Recruit by Paul Haney, 1st Vice Commander Post BE02

Before I worked for the civil service I was involved in the insurance industry and maintained several positions such as District Manager for one company and Area Director over the State of Mississippi for another. One of my main functions was to recruit new agents to my company. I was quite successful but many of my colleagues and peers struggled with their recruiting numbers. They would constantly ask me, "How in the world are you so successful at recruiting and we struggle every month?" My first answer to them was always, "I recruit where I stand and I am always looking for those who are looking for me". Their response was always an emphatic "WHAT???" What in the world does that even mean???"

Once I explained what I was talking about, they completely understood. Essentially I told them that I sold out to the insurance company. I WAS the insurance company and I was always looking for new talent. Even more, I was looking for those who were "hungry" and searching for a different, if not better, opportunity to change their and their family's lives. It didn't matter if I was standing in line at the checkout in Kroger or having dinner at a restaurant, I was always searching for the best and brightest.

The second thing I would tell them is that I enlisted help from those agents who were successful within our company (essentially I was creating new leadership within our ranks). The third thing I would tell my colleagues is that you have to fully understand and embrace why recruiting is so important. Recruiting is the lifeblood of every organization and without it, attrition will take its toll. I took that to heart and prided myself in insuring that I did my part to help grow the companies I worked for.

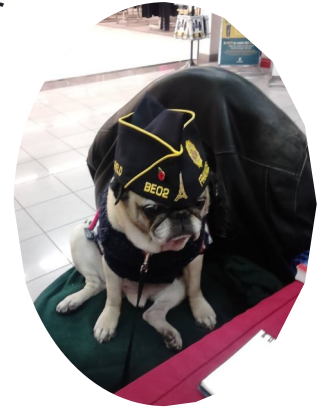

Part of my responsibility as an American Legion officer is of course recruiting and during the course of the last year or so, we lost a great number of members to...you got it, that nasty word "attrition". It has been a daunting task to replenish those numbers. We are making headway but we could use your help. As members, we joined for our own personal reasons. For me, it was because I wanted to give something back to those who have provided me with so much. I want to always have an outstretched hand for my brother and sister Veterans who paved the way for us, those who I served with as well as those who are serving and yet to serve. I also want to set an example and have a positive influence on the young people we make contact with through our volunteerism for they are our future. Just like when I worked for those insurance companies, I've sold out. I've sold out to the American Legion. I AM a Legionnaire.

As I stated before, we could use your help. I'm not asking anyone to set the world on fire or set new records. What I am asking is if each one of you would commit to recruiting one person in 2017...two if possible. What are we looking for? We are looking for those who are looking for us.

Will you join me?

Membership

Membership in The American Legion for year 2017 is already going into its third month. At this time Flanders Field Post is at 81% renewal compared to last year's 120%. Some of our members have moved back to the USA and may think that they cannot be a member of our Post. We have a number of members from the US who have remained members of Post BE02. Theirs and your dues help us with our Americanism and Child & Youth programs. We would like to keep you as a member of the American Legion and especially Post BE02. Help support our effort, renew today.

1. The easiest and fastest method is to go to <http://www.legion.org/renew> and renew on line.
2. The second method is to deposit your dues ($35) in our Andrews Federal Credit Union account (820191021). If you opt for this method, please ensure that you have the teller put your name on the transaction. In this way, I can determine who has deposited the funds.
3. And finally, you can mail me a check for $35 at one of the following

A tribute to eleven WW II G.I.s of the 333d U.S. Field Artillery Battalion and to all African-American soldiers who served during World War II.

On Sep 11, 1994, Hermann Langer erected a small stone cross to remember the eleven black G.I.s of the 333rd Field Artillery Battalion who were murdered by German SS after they had surrendered during the second day of the Battle of the Bulge.

The U.S. Memorial Wereth is a non profit association founded by private citizens, all volunteers. Their goal is to sustain a permanent memorial to honor and remember these men.

The Memorial is located in Wereth, Belgium, which is a tiny hamlet in Eastern Belgium, on the

Adopt-a-Grave program

On Thursday, 06 April at 8 pm, the American Legion "Flanders Field" Post BE02 will be laying a wreath at the Menin Gate, Ieper during the Last Post Ceremony. This is in commemoration of the centennial of the United States entering WWI. We will also presenting the US Flag and representing the US government during the ceremony.

This event will also be the initiation of our second part of our Adopt-a-Grave program. We have received permission from the Commonwealth War Graves Commission to begin an adoption program for the Americans who fought and died for the British Commonwealth forces here in Belgium during WWI & WWII.

American Legion Post BE02 fundraiser

Any purchase helps out our American Legion Post here in Belgium. We earn $7 on every unit sold. One unit equals either 4 cups or 2 travel mugs. Free shipping and no tax to APO's. There are cups for each military service as well as the NHL, NFL, NCAA and MLB. Thank you for your support!

If anyone needs help navigating the site, please don't hesitate to speak up. These are GREAT products! I have had a number of them for years. They are durable, especially in the dishwasher, and great looking.
