“Eulogy for a Veteran”

From: Post GR07 in Remembrance of Mr. John Odom Sr.

Do not stand at my grave and weep. I am not there, I do not sleep.

I am a thousand winds that blow. I am the diamond glints on snow.

I am the sunlight on ripened grain. I am the Gentle autumn rain.

When you awaken in the mornings hush, I am the swift uplifting rush, of quiet birds in circled flight, I am the soft stars that shine at night.

Do not stand at my grave and cry, I am not there, I did not die.

Riley Leroy Pitts Post GR07

Honors Army Captain Riley Leroy Pitts

An American Hero

Post GR07 is proudly named in honor of Captain Riley Leroy Pitts who was mortally wounded in Vietnam and posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor. After his company landed in an airmobile assault, several enemy forces opened fire with automatic weapons. Captain Pitts led an assault which overran the enemy positions to reinforce another company engaged against a strong enemy force. As his company moved forward intense fire was received from within 15 meters of his position. His rifle fire proving ineffective against the enemy due to the dense foliage, Pitts picked up an M79 grenade launcher and began pinpointing the targets. Seizing a grenade taken from a captured Viet Cong, he lobbed it at a bunker to his front but it hit the foliage and rebounded. Without hesitation, Pitts threw himself on top of the grenade which, fortunately, failed to explode. He then directed the repositioning of the company to permit friendly artillery to be fired. Upon completion of the fire mission, he again led his men toward the enemy positions, personally killing at least one more Viet Cong. Displaying complete disregard for his personal safety, he maintained continuous fire, pinpointing the enemy's fortified positions, while at the same time directing and urging his men forward, until he was mortally wounded.
